Nature's Rock Gardens look best, and so when making one try and have it similar by just scattering rocks about the ground similar to the above photograph. Make the soil rich with a liberal quantity of old well rotted manure, old leaves or some bone meal fertilizer. Then plant a good quantity of Cullen's Rocky Mountain Wild Flower Seeds and produce an abundance of lovely flowers.

Blue, pink, yellow and red. Pkt., 35c.

NELUMBIUM OR
LOTUS SPECIOSUM
(Egyptian Lotus)

We wish to lay particular stress upon this beautiful Lotus. The best known of all and the easiest to grow, most desirable in ponds where the magnificent foliage and flowers produce a beautiful subtropical effect. Flowers deep rose color, creamy-white at the base of the petals, sweet scented. Make a cut into the top end of the seed with a file and soak in lukewarm water for 24 hours before planting. Price, 3 seeds for 35c.

How to Grow Water Lilies From Seed. Take an ordinary size flower pot, fill it within one inch of the top with good soil, no manure, then plant the seeds, firm down the soil and cover with pure sand, about as thick as a cardboard, and place the pot in an earthenware dish about three inches deeper than the pot, pour water into the dish until the top of the pot in which the seeds are planted will be covered about two inches, then place in a sunny window. The water should be kept at tepid temperature until the leaves have grown. When the plants have leaves about the size of a dime, transplant into a tub that has been three parts filled with a mixture of three parts of good top soil, or rotted sod compost, with one part cow manure or good barnyard manure. Cover with half an inch of clean sand.

When Planting to the Tub or Pool the soil should be firmed about the roots; then cover with about one foot of water. The best effect will be had by sinking the tub in the ground right up to the rim. In October remove the plants from the tub and trench in a box of dry sand and keep dormant for Winter in a place where they will not freeze.

WATER LILY—Plants pink, blue and red. $1.50 each, express collect.

Rumex Venosus

(Native of Colorado)

The wings, or petal-like attachments to the seed, are light yellow. After the seed develops, these attachments that we call wings, become more brilliantly colored, finally attaining a bright pink or red hue.

When dried and made into wreathes and hung in windows or rooms, after a year's time will look just as if picked fresh from the garden, neither shrinking or losing color, or dropping the blossoms, although it is dry and brittle. It surely is an everlasting flower. A thrill of joy to all who see it. Pkt., 25c; 5 pkts., $1.00.

ASCLEPIAS TUBEROSA BUTTERFLY FLOWER

Of the Rocky Mts. Offered for the first time this year.

The flowers are generally brilliant orange but less often a deep scarlet, varying greatly in nature.

They are at their best in midsummer, when all else is suffering from drouth and heat. The plant thrives best in an open soil, and when the soil is a stiff clay, it would be well to surround the roots with a liberal quantity of sand. Butterfly weed it truly is! At all times during its blooming season it is covered with all sorts of butterflies and other showy insects in search of sweet nectar. Pkt., 25c; 3 pkts., 50c. Roots, 3 for 70c; doz., $2.50.

CULLEN'S ROCKY MOUNTAIN WILD FLOWERS

Here is a message with photographs of some of the Rocky Mountain wild flowers that we are offering. They are more expressive than a volume of explanation and may suggest possibilities for your grounds.

Hardy Perennials

INDIAN PAINT BRUSH—Castilleja Coccinea (Painted Cup)

INDIAN
BRUSH

VALUABLE FOR THE ROCKERY—A native of Colorado. Growing about 18 inches high. The flowers are a deep vermillion or scarlet. One of the most attractive of all of our native flowers. William Hamilton Gibson calls the color of Indian Paint Brush "the brightest dab of red the wildflower can show." The blossoms, completely eclipsed by the red floral leaves, form with these a dense terminal cluster. Rarely the red of the leaves is displaced by a yellow light. The Greardias is parasitic in nature and named for Castillejo, a Spanish botanist. The seed is obtained only at rare intervals. This is an opportunity for flower lovers to secure seed while our very limited surplus lasts. Pkt., 15c; 2 pkts., 25c. Plants 60c each; 3 for $1.60, postpaid.

COLORADO LUPINE

(Lupinus)

FOR THE ROCKERY

Persons who have visited the Rocky Mountains and have not seen Lupines in bloom have missed a sight. These hardy perennials bloom all Summer; tall spikes of purple-blue. Pkt., 15c; 2 pkts., 25c.

Plants should be given plenty of room to develop. Pkt., 15c; 2 pkts., 25c.

CACTUS—Interesting and Curious

Easy to grow in the house or garden. When in bloom in all the radiance of its grandeur pales into insignificance the most beautiful rose.

Odd and interesting plants. Their strange forms and manner of growth make them distinctly different from any other plant. Many of these varieties can be grown in saucers or pans with about two inches deep of coarse sand, with good drainage. Cover with glass and keep reasonably moist, but not wet. Transplant the seedlings into small pots. Of all the window garden plants, none are so well adapted for indoor cultivation, but too much moisture should not be forced upon them. Their flowers are exceptionally showy not only in form but also in size and their colors vary with the most extended of tints. Furthermore many of them exhale delicate and exquisite odor. Choice mixed, pkt., 15c; 2 pkts., 25c. Plants, 50c each; 4 for $1.90; $5.50 per dozen. Specimen plants, $1.00 each. Limited supply allows us to only offer assorted varieties.

CACTUS OPUNTIA—Polyocansha

When in bloom in all the radiance of its grandeur pale into insignificance, the most beautiful rose. Its flowers are large, beautiful lemon-yellow, in great profusion. Excellent for the Rockery or for Pots. Very hardy and easily grown from a whole leaf cutting. Large whole leaf cuttings, 25c each.

Plants 75c to $1.50 each, postpaid. Grow easily from seed. Pkt., 10c; 3 pkts., 25c.

We have other rare Opuntia Cactus, all excellent for Rockeries, whole leaf cuttings 35c to 75c each.

The cuttings of Cactus that we offer can be shipped any distance and will grow if planted in very sandy soil, even though a week or more on the way. The cuttings will start roots better if the freshly cut part of the leaf plant is "Calloused", that is, left exposed to the sun for a few days before planting.

Cactus Opuntia Polyocansha

HINTS IN CACTUS CULTURE

When Cactus plants are received, place the plants in lukewarm water for about half an hour, cut roots short, and plant in very sandy loam. They need good drainage, a handful of charcoal in bottom of pot, and a handful of sand about the roots of each plant. Growth of new roots will soon start if a little water is given, some air-slacked lime mixed with the soil is beneficial.

Root Cactus in charcoal or in propagation sand will germinate easily at a good temperature.

COLORADO YUCCA—Adam's Needle

Colorado Yucca

FOR ROCKERIES OR BORDERS

One of the best ornamental foliage and flowering plants. Its long evergreen sword-like foliage, 3 to 5 feet tall, covered with bell shaped creamy white blossoms during June and July, making it one of the best plants for all positions. It will stand more drought than any plant except the Cactus and it thrives among rocks, on sand and gravel, in grass or almost anywhere. It is being extensively planted for parks and Cemeteries, no other plant in its class can surpass it for the purpose. Extra select seed. Pkt., 10c; 3 pkts., 25c. Plants 60c; 2 for $1.00, postpaid.

CULLEN'S VELVET SOD LAWN GRASS SEED

(QUICK GROWING)

We wish to say that our Velvet Sod Lawn Grass Seed is the very highest standard quality, and is not to be compared with ordinary mixtures.

A fine, velvety lawn adds much to the home surroundings. To have a fine, close, even sward, it is absolutely necessary to use the seed of the right kind of grasses. Good, dark color, and tufty, stooling out well from the bottom to make a compact lawn, and they must be able to stand the sun and drought as well without injury. Our mixture of grasses meets all these requirements. We use it here in Denver in our landscape work and it has been much admired. We have sold it from coast to coast and it has given entire satisfaction in every location. It grows quickly and in a few weeks will make a deep, green, velvety sward. A drought of several weeks will not kill this grass. It might dry and become very brown, but a good rain will bring it out green and velvety. Weight about 25 pounds to the bushel. One pound will seed about 300 square feet; 80 to 100 pounds are required for an acre.

"SHADY LAWN". A mixture of fine grasses that thrive under the shade of trees or buildings where there is little sun.
